

1st Source IT introduces its CIO2Go Program. This program is designed for the small to mid-sized business that cannot afford to hire a full-time CIO/CTO senior manager. The program is designed to allow access to qualified senior management expertise in assessing and developing use of technology within your business now, and in the future.

Features and benefits of the CIO2Go Program are:

- Most small to mid-sized businesses cannot afford a full-time CIO (Chief Information Officer) to help stabilize their existing environment and plan for their future.
- CIO2Go provides fully engaged technology expertise to your management team
- We work with you to identify how technology can best serve your business within both your industry and your business culture.
- We analyze your current environment for reliability, stability, security and feature/function in meeting your business needs.
- We review your current technical vendor contracts to ensure that you are getting what you need to support your business.
- We develop tactical (short-term) technology plans to get the most from your existing environment.
- We develop strategic technology plans to provide for your cost-effective longer term growth through the appropriate use of technology.
- We become the technology expert on your management team.
- We assess both the skills within your organization and the culture of your business to ensure that your technology plans fit your business needs and capabilities.
- We manage your existing technology vendors for you, ensuring your vendors provide what you expect.
- We participate in your business to help you use technology wisely.

Experienced management of technology used in your business is critical to your success.

Our CIO2GO Program is designed to provide (or augment existing) management of your technical environment..
